Behaviour Policy

At Toddleswood we believe that children develop best in a safe and nurturing environment. Children thrive when they understand what is expected of them.

We expect all staff, volunteers and students to be positive role models for the children by modelling positive behaviour by treating children, parents/carers and one another with friendliness, care and respect.

All positive behaviour will be encouraged and appropriately praised. We will always discourage any negative behaviour that is violent, aggressive or disruptive in any way. Physical punishment and bad language are never used or threatened at any time or under any circumstances within Toddleswood.

We acknowledge that children with additional needs may not fully understand what behaviour is expected of them within the setting and we will take steps to support and manage their behaviour the best we can.

We believe children should be free to develop their play and learning without fear of being hurt or hindered by anyone else.

Any form of aggressive or bullying behaviour is unacceptable and will not be tolerated, whether it be physical, verbal, or otherwise. This includes interactions with children, staff and parents/carers. If a parent/carer is continuously aggressive, inappropriate or abusive towards any child, staff or other parents/carers legal action may be taken. This could also result in the withdrawal of your child's space.

We ask all persons on the school premises, not to use any form of offensive language or display any form of aggressive or negative behaviour.

Full details on how we manage children's behaviour are explained in our 'Managing Behaviour Procedure'
